Parable of the Labourers in the Vineyard

Today's Mass: Twenty Fifth Sunday (Year A)

First Reading: God will forgive the person who abandons wicked ways and thoughts; God's ways and thoughts are not the same as ours.

Psalm: a song of praise to God, who is kind, forgiving and compassionate to all who call him.

The Second Reading is the first in a series from St Paul's letter to the Philippians, in which he is seeking to strengthen the faith of the Christians in Philippi (a city in Macedonia, in Greece).

The Gospel contains the parable of the Labourers in the Vineyard. It reminds us that God's justice and generosity is not like our human concepts of justice and generosity. It is also a reminder of the day of judgement: do we presume that we are among those who will be saved?

Today is a Day of Prayer for the Harvest, for the Fruits of Human Work, and for the Reverent Use of Creation.

St Edith

A Parish Devotion & Pilgrimage

Our Parish is one of the very few in Britain in which a royal saint was born. Soon after she died, aged only 23, on the 15th September 984, miracles at her tomb established her cult, particularly those associated with diseases of the eye (she is also associated with helping those who suffer from spiritual blindness).

Devotions to her were also established at her birth place in Kemsing. Water from the Well, in the old part of the village near the site of her birthplace, was regarded as a source of healing. A shrine was also built near the parish church of St Mary the Virgin whose origins date back to before the Normal conquest. As St Edith's Shrine was so near the Pilgrims Way to Canterbury, and she was such an important national saint, it became a site of pilgrimage.

The shrine was destroyed during the Reformation. It is not known when Catholics felt able to come openly to Kemsing again to pray at her Well. But a regular Parish Pilgrimage to the Well has continued since well before the Second World War. This year, a group of parishioners, who couldn't resist the opportunity to join pilgrims through the ages, walked from St Thomas's in Sevenoaks, lunching en-route at Holy Trinity Otford, to the Well in Kemsing.

Eighty parishioners took part in this year's celebrations of St Edith. Parishioners came from all the churches in the parish. It was good to see a number of children (including some who walked from Otford) and some fellow Christians from other denominations at St Edith's Well, where a posy of flowers was laid in her honour. We prayed the rosary and were delighted that Canon Bailey could lead us in the first Glorious Mystery of the Holy Rosary. Fr David, supported by Frs Paul and Kenneth, said prayers for the parish and asked for St Edith's intercession, especially for those with eye problems.

This year, we were welcomed, by kind permission of the Vicar, to pray Vespers at St Mary the Virgin as part of our devotions. Church warden Jean Walker gave us a warm welcome at this beautiful church with its historical connections to St Edith. Our singing was led by Aga, the cantor for Holy Trinity, Otford, and Douglas Bennet from St Mary's Church choir.

In time honoured tradition, as food is always very important when on pilgrimage, we finished at The Bell, with afternoon tea and a cake for St Edith.

From the Desk of the Parish Priest

Who can be Baptized?

In the early Church Baptism was administered to adults. Very often this was done just prior to death (like Constantine, the first Christian Roman Emperor) in case the person sinned after Baptism and negated its effects. The Sacrament of Penance (Confession) was not fully developed for many centuries. Thus, for example, when St Ambrose was elected Bishop of Milan in 374 he wasn't even Baptized; he had to be Baptized before he could be Ordained.

Nowadays converts to Catholicism are Baptized as adults if they have not previously been Baptized. Adult Baptism normally occurs today as part of the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA), usually at the Easter Vigil, and is immediately followed by Confirmation and Holy Communion.

To be admitted to Baptism an adult must have manifested the intention to receive Baptism, must be adequately instructed in the truths of the faith and the duties of a Christian, and tested in the Christian life over the course of the catechumenate. The person must moreover be urged to have sorrow for personal sins (Code of Canon Law 865).

If there is doubt about whether an adult has already been Baptized, the priest will perform a conditional Baptism. In this case, he performs the ceremony saying If you are not Baptized, I Baptize you in the name of . A person can only be Baptized once; if he or she was Baptized as, say, an Anglican then the Baptism is not performed again.

In the Catholic Church today Baptism is most commonly administered to infants. This is also the normal practice of the Orthodox and historic Eastern churches, as well as most mainline Protestants.

Some people object to infant Baptism, because the baby cannot have the faith which is necessary for the sacrament. Now, faith is an important prerequisite for receiving the sacraments. This was established long ago by the theologian Hugh of St Victor (who died in 1141). We need only look at the various encounters in the Gospels to see that Christ Himself stressed the need for faith before people received graces from Him such as healing. Faith then is required for Baptism, but in the case of infant Baptism it is the faith of the parents and godparents. This is why godparents must be Catholics who live a life of faith which befits the role to be undertaken (Canon 874).

Some people argue that Baptism should be delayed until the child can understand it and even make the decision themselves. But since Baptism removes both the guilt and punishment due to original sin (as we saw last week) delaying Baptism may put the child's salvation in danger, should he or she die unbaptized. Or to put it in non-theological language: would a parent delay teaching their child they must clean their teeth until the child is old enough to understand and decide for themselves?

Godparents must live a life of faith which befits their role.

Church law (Canon 868) states that for an infant to be Baptized lawfully there be a well-founded hope that the child will be brought up in the catholic religion . If this is lacking the Parish Priest should defer the Baptism. This poses a dilemma for the poor priest: if he defers the Baptism this may well look as if the church is turning the family away, and they are unlikely to be seen again. What would you do?

Next week: who can Baptize? You may be surprised by the answer!
